

Ethically Sourced Diamonds

Our Commitment to Ethical Sourcing

At Ultimate Diamond, we are dedicated to the highest ethical standards in sourcing our diamonds and metals. We proudly support the Kimberley Process, a global initiative that certifies conflict-free diamonds. Our diamonds are exclusively obtained from respected suppliers who adhere to these rigorous standards.

Zimbabwe Diamonds

Ultimate Diamond stands firmly against human rights abuses, and as such, we do not purchase diamonds from Zimbabwe's Marange diamond district. We are actively collaborating with our suppliers to ensure that our customers receive ethically sourced and exceptional products.

Responsible Metals

In addition to our ethical diamond sourcing, we are committed to responsible gold and metal procurement. This includes environmentally and socially responsible mining practices.

No Dirty Gold Golden Rules

Ultimate Diamond is a signatory of Earthworks' No Dirty Gold Golden Rules, reinforcing our dedication to ethical practices:

We ensure our gold and metals come from suppliers meeting high human rights and environmental criteria.

We actively engage with suppliers to influence responsible sourcing.

We prefer suppliers with a strong commitment to environmental stewardship.

We continuously measure and establish benchmarks for ongoing improvement.

Lab-Created Offerings

For those seeking ethical choices, our lab-grown diamonds are a popular option. These conflict-free diamonds are created in a controlled laboratory environment, offering a sustainable and ethical alternative to mined stones.

Conflict-Free Diamond FAQs

What are ethical diamonds?

Ethical diamonds are conflict-free, transparently mined gems that do not support conflicts or unethical organizations, verified through the Kimberley Process.

Are lab diamonds ethical?

Lab-created diamonds are a responsible choice for conflict-free stones.

How can I verify diamond ethics?

Purchase from jewelers adhering to the Kimberley Process. Ultimate Diamond exclusively offers ethically sourced diamonds.

What is the Kimberley Process?

The Kimberley Process certifies rough diamonds as conflict-free, ensuring ethical sourcing.